Blackwell Kindness Contest

In honor of Martin Luther King Jr. Day on January 16th, we would like to recognize the kind students we have here at Blackwell. We would like to encourage all students to take a few moments and write about kindness. One piece of writing from each grade level will be chosen, and the student who wrote that essay will be given the opportunity to read their writing at the MLK Day Assembly on January 20th, 2017. Teachers and parents are strongly encouraged to talk to students and support them in submitting a piece of writing. If you are interested in participating, please see below.

In 200 words or less, answer the following question in an essay, poem or story. Be sure to include your name, teacher and grade level on your entry. If possible, typed entries are preferred.

How can kindness change the world?

Please submit your entry to your teacher by Thursday, December 1st.

Thank you! Let's celebrate kindness!

Running Club Hiatus

Parents, a reminder that the fall session of Running Club is complete. We will take a break and resume Running Club in February, specific date TBD.

Correction

Our next PTSA General Membership meeting will be held at 9:00am in the Blackwell Library on December 1st, not at 6:00pm as previously noted.
